

Center for Strategic and Budgetary Assessments

STUDIES

Securing the Frontier: Challenges and Solutions for U.S. Polar Operations

October 5, 2017 Bryan Clark, Jesse Sloman

Resources: Forces & Capabilities

This study describes the challenges and opportunities America and its allies face in the Arctic and Antarctic and proposes new roles and missions, operational concepts, and capabilities U.S. naval and air forces should pursue to protect and further U.S. and allied national security interests in the high latitudes.